Letter From The President Nancy Grahlmann

Hello Artists:

The school buses are rolling into action once again as the kids return to another school year. I'm sure every kid out there is thankful the weather is trending a bit cooler. On Friday, August 15, Veronique Benoit, Carrie Godwin, and myself visited McDowell Mountain Elementary School and Fountain Hills High School with art donations that were purchased with the funds from Tour d' Artist 2025. The elementary school ordered paints, brushes, and all of the supplies needed to paint rocks. The teacher wants to generate a caring atmosphere for her students by encouraging them to write positive messages of kindness as they paint them. Then they will beautify the school campus by placing the finished rocks in the areas the teacher chooses. The Highschool teacher still has some glass that was donated last year, so she ordered glass molds so she can teach the kids about glass casting. What a pleasure it is to know that we can make a contribution in supporting arts in the schools. We hope to widen the range of where we can share more items and tools with kids.

Thanks to all of you,

Nancy

SUMMER PROJECT 2025

Bring to Oct. 6th Meeting

This summer, we're chasing the sky—and we'd love for you to join us!
We're thrilled to support the Fountain Hills Dark Sky Discovery Project, a dazzling endeavor unfolding right here in our beautiful town. Isn't it lovely watching it bloom, one dreamy step at a time? Our theme is simple: Sky. But oh, what a sky it is! Big skies, tiny skies, stormy, starry, painted in every hue your heart can imagine. As long as it touches the sky, it belongs. Artists aren't scared of bold ideas—we follow them like fireflies in the dark. Who knows what surprises will come fluttering out of your brush, your lens, your hands? Let's create, explore, and marvel together. I can't wait to see what magic you make. Wishing you a summer full of color and delight. Go play! Reminder
Deadline is end of September!
